

The Stinky Life of Mr. Poops

Abandoned at birth, Mr. Poops could not understand why no one would want him. Alone, in the hot sun, he was left to dry out with no hope of survival. With each passing day, he hoped he would not be so dried out that no one would recognize him... not even his own mother.

Good fortune fell upon Mr. Poops when a rain storm washed him into a storm drain where he was able to float his way to a store near you. Please adopt Mr. Poops and give him the family he deserves. Reunite him with a dog that wants to put Mr. Poops in their mouth and squeak him with the unconditional love only a dog could provide.
